Historical Sketch:

The Catawba Lutheran is a short-lived newspaper that began in 1906 and ran through 1922. The printing locations throughout the life of the North Carolina newspaper included Newton, Granite Falls, Lenoir, Hickory, and New Market, Virginia. It was published by the Lutheran Pastoral Association of Catawba County and maintained a price of 25 cents per year. The editors of the Catawba Lutheran were C. Luther Miller (1906, 1909), J. H. Wannemacher (1912, 1914), E. J. Sox (1915), C. I. Morgan (1917), V. L. Fulmer (1918), John C. Peery (1919), F. L. Conrad (1920, 1921), and A. R. Beck (1922). The newspaper includes marriage, birth, death, and baptism announcements as well as updates on various missions. Dates and times of services and details for various Sunday schools and extracurricular congregation activities are frequently mentioned throughout the issues.
